Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the phrase "such" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. The Examiner still believes the word "such" is similar to the words "such as" therefore the rejection is maintained. The Applicant should avoid this type of language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kovacs US Patent 5,314,495.

Kovacs discloses a method for electrical actuation of non-biological artificial muscles (250, 304, 306& 302) by electricity generated by biological nerves (352), the method comprising the steps of attaching electrodes (250) on biological nerves, excitation of biological nerves to generate an action potential voltage and subsequently application of the generated voltage to non-biological (see Fig. 10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kovacs US Patent 5,314,495 in view of Publication made by M. Shahinpoor "Electro-Mechanics of Iono-Elastic Beams As Electrically-Controllable Artificial Muscles", Proc. SPIE Smart Materials and Structures Conference, March 1-5, 1999, New Port Beach, California, Publication No. SPIE 3669-12, pp. 109-121, (1999).

Kovacs discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, Kovacs does not disclose an electrode attached to sciatic nerve of a rat and an ionic polymer metal composite artificial muscles.

Shahinpoor teaches an electrically controlled static and dynamic flexing and deformation of ioni-elastic beams made with ionic-polymer metal composite artificial muscles for the purpose of having the capability of large motion sensing and actuation in a biomimetic fashion.

Regarding claim 7, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Kovacs reference with the electrically-controllable artificial muscles of the Shahinpoor reference in order to have the capability of large motion sensing and actuation in a biomimetic fashion.

Regarding claim 5, At the time the invention was made, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the type of nerve used in the procedure because Applicant has not disclosed that by using a sciatic nerve of a rat provides an advantage, is used for a particular purpose, or solves a stated problem. One of ordinary skill in the art, furthermore, would have expected Applicant's invention to perform equally well with human nerve of the Kovacs reference because at the end the artificial muscle is going to be used with a human nerve instead of using a sciatic nerve of a rat.

Therefore, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to modify the Kovacs reference to obtain the invention as specified in claim 5.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
